

A Journey into Beauty, Story, and the Faith of Saint Patrick June 12–22, 2026

There are places in the world where the land itself feels thin — where heaven and earth seem closer together. Ireland is one of those places.

This summer, I invite you to join me on a pilgrimage into the wild beauty of Ireland and into the courageous, imaginative faith of Saint Patrick — a faith rooted in prayer, shaped by the rhythms of the land, and alive with hope. We will stand along the Cliffs of Moher as the Atlantic crashes below. We will walk ancient monastic paths and worship in sacred spaces like Holycross Abbey and Down Cathedral, where Patrick’s story still echoes through the stones. We will explore Connemara’s windswept hills, the Giant’s Causeway, the streets of Dublin and Belfast, and the villages where music spills out of pubs at night.

This is more than a tour. It is a pilgrimage.

It is mornings filled with Irish breakfast and laughter.
It is evenings of music at the Merry Ploughboy Pub.

It is learning, tasting, praying, and listening.

It is sharing great food, a wee bit of whiskey or a pint of Guinness, and conversations that linger long after the glasses are empty.

Saint Patrick’s faith was not small or timid. It was a faith that saw God in wind and fire, in friendship and forgiveness, in mission and mercy. On this journey, we will explore how his story still speaks to our own — how courage, calling, reconciliation, and joy are woven into the fabric of this beautiful island.

Come for the beauty beyond measure.

Come for the stories that shaped a nation.

Come for faith deepened, friendships strengthened, and laughter shared.

Visit to Holycross Abbey

Located 6 km from Thurles on the banks of the River Suir, the picturesque Cistercian Holy Cross Abbey was originally built in 1168 by Donal Mor O'Brien for the Benedictine Order. The monastery was colonized by monks from Monasteranenagh in County Limerick. It was named Holy Cross because the monastery housed a portion of the true cross. This relic is now enshrined in the Abbey. It became a place of pilgrimage for people from all over the country. Under the patronage of James Butler, the fourth Earl of Ormonde, much of the abbey was rebuilt in the 15th century, but after suppression, it was eventually left in ruins. The church has many interesting features, including a variety of fascinating windows, mural paintings, and many fine carvings. The abbey was in ruins until the early 1970's, but a massive restoration project turned the Cistercian cloisters and chapels into a living church. In the restored West Range is a tourist office, an exhibition area featuring an audio-visual, a shop, and toilet facilities.

Continue to Cork

Panoramic Cork City Tour

Get to know the second-largest Irish city on a panoramic city tour. The city of Cork owes its charm to its favorable location, nestled in a landscape surrounded by hills. Attractions that you see on the way include the St. Finbarr Cathedral, Butter Museum, City Hall, and Cork City Gaol. You will also pass the famous English Market. The origin of this food market dates back to 1610, and the present building, where it takes place, dates back to 1786. The market hall was destroyed by fire in 1980 and later rebuilt by an architect from Cork (T.F. MacNamara). Traditionally, this was a meat and fish market, so today you can still watch many butchers sell their goods. Built in 1446, Blarney Castle is famous for its Blarney Stone, the Stone of Eloquence, which is traditionally believed to have the power to bestow the gift of eloquence on all those who kiss it. Many legends tell the story of the Stone, but why not kiss it and find out the truth behind the legend. The Castle gardens, covering 60 acres of land, are under constant change, and in the past few years, a water garden has been developed and is open to visitors.

Midleton Distillery Experience

Whiskey has been distilled in the town of Midleton, County Cork, since the early 9th Century. The Midleton Distillery Experience was founded by the Murphy brothers in 1825. Follow the old distillery trail through mills, maltings, stillhouse, warehouses, and kilns, and view the largest pot still in the world - some of these buildings date back to 1795. The tour ends in the Distillery pub, where all are invited to enjoy a glass of Irish Whiskey. During the visit, a number of volunteers are selected to take part in a tasting session to compare a Jameson whiskey with a Scottish Whisky and American bourbon. Participants will receive a diploma for their achievement! It is possible for the whole group to participate in the whiskey comparison tasting. Kylemore Abbey is stunningly located in the Kylemore Pass in Connemara. Mitchell Henry built the House in 1868, after having spent his honeymoon in the area. The architecture is best described as neo-gothic, and the house still displays all the characteristics of that period. One of Kylemore Abbey's most famous features is its miniature cathedral, built in 1870 and known locally as the Gothic church. Today, the abbey is home to the Irish order of Benedictine nuns. They established a private school for young girls, which was the renowned Kylemore Abbey International School. The school eventually closed in 2010. Facilities at Kylemore include a visitor center, an exhibition housed in the main reception rooms of the house and a video which takes the visitor through the history of the house and its occupants. The Gothic church is open for visits and available as a venue for choir groups to sing. If time allows guests can also visit the Kylemore Abbey Victorian Walled Garden was laid out in 1867 and took three years to complete. According to legend Finn McCool created the Giants Causeway by building stepping stones to Scotland to challenge the Scottish giant Benandonner! The new Visitor center explores the major themes of mythology, geology, landscape, ecology, culture and social history based on the UNESCO World Heritage site that consists of 40,000 basalt polygonal columns formed 60 million years ago after a volcanic eruption. There are various interactive exhibits and short video presentations within five designated interpretive exhibition areas and the self guided visit will culminate with a spectacular two minutes audio-visual projection of a volcanic eruption flowing over the walls and onto the floor. Other services and facilities include a large craft and souvenir shop, a Tourist Information desk, and a restaurant. To enhance the wider visitor experience around the site, a hand held audio guide is available in a range of languages which will bring the wider World Heritage Site to life and inform visitors of unique features to look out for across this amazing landscape. This tour will cover the Falls and Shankill areas and usually lasts 3h (1.5h in each area). The group will meet with two different guides, both guides are former political prisoners, one from the republican community and the other one from the loyalist community. During this tour, they offer their own personal perspective over the local history and the recent conflict. It is a perfect tour for visitors looking to understand what happened in the North of Ireland during the recent conflict, understand the current divisions that still exist, but also to discover what impacts the peace process is having on people's everyday lives.

IRELAND PILGRIMAGE ITINERARY HIGHLIGHTS

ITINERARY HIGHLIGHTS | JUNE 12 - 22, 2026

Visitors will start at Divis Tower in the nationalist area of Falls Road where they will hear the colonization of Ireland by England, and how the conflict started in 1969. Then they will move up the road and see the international wall, then the Remembrance Garden commemorating local people who died during the conflict, if time allows, they will stop in the republican museum, which gathered artefacts from Armagh jail and the H-Blocks. The next main stop is the famous Bobby Sands mural, where the guide will explain the hunger strike of 1981. Most of our guides were in jail at that time and some of them even knew Bobby – this is usually a particularly emotional moment for both the tour guides and the visitors. After 1.5h the group will arrive at Lanark Way where they will meet the loyalist guide. He will show them the “peace line” this big wall dividing nationalist and loyalist/unionist areas. He will then bring them on to Shankill road to show them the famous loyalist murals over there, and they will finish in the garden commemorating local soldiers who went to France to fight during WW1. 20 years ago, seeing a former republican prisoner shaking hands and chatting in a friendly manner with a loyalist ex-prisoner was completely unseen and unimaginable.

As you journey through the nine large galleries of the interactive exhibition, you will uncover the true story of the Titanic, from her conception in Belfast in the early 1900's, through her construction and launch, to her famous maiden voyage and subsequent place in history. Dinner at leisure (independent, at own expense). Overnight in Belfast

Day 9 | Saturday | 20 June 2026

Breakfast at the hotel and depart for Downpatrick

Visit to Down Cathedral

Down Cathedral overlooking Downpatrick, stands close to what is believed to be the mortal remains of Patrick, the Patron saint of Ireland. Visitor can access the cathedral via gardens at the back of the St Patrick's Centre or through English street from the town center. The Cathedral is impressive inside and has a wonderful organ and a very interesting seating arrangement. A retail area is housed at the entrance of the Cathedral. It is generally accepted that the main walls of the Cathedral date from the years after 1220. It suffered destruction on numerous occasions including during the wars with Edward Bruce in 1316 and finally, on the suppression of the monasteries in 1541, the Cathedral was laid waste. Notwithstanding its ruinous state which lasted until 1790, King James I granted a Charter to the Cathedral in 1609, providing for a Dean and Chapter. Rather than lose the connection with Patrick, the name began to be used for the growing town, which assumed the name Downpatrick. Rebuilding of the Cathedral began in 1790, it was consecrated in 1818 and the tower was completed in 1829. The Cathedral was closed again for repairs and renovations in 1986/7. Attacks of rot were so extensive that the Cathedral Board, acting on professional advice decided to remove almost the entire interior plaster walls and vaulting. What the visitor sees now is an almost entirely new interior, a replica of that which it replaced. The cost of this was upwards of £750,000 which was all raised voluntarily.

Lunch at leisure (independent, at own expense) Continue to Dublin

Guinness Storehouse

Guinness Storehouse The Guinness Brewery in Dublin is Europe's largest stout producing brewery and home to the Guinness Storehouse. Opened in 1904, the Storehouse was an operational plant for fermenting and storing Guinness. Today it houses a very fine exhibition dedicated to the Guinness story. Visitors will discover what goes into the making a pint of Guinness - the ingredients, the brewing process, the time, the craft and the passion. The exhibition shows how the brew has been marketed and how it is sold today in over 150 countries. Once the tour has finished, the guest is invited to the Gravity Bar to enjoy their pint of Guinness. Regular demonstrations on the art of pulling a pint of Guinness also take place in the Storehouse. Launched on the fifth floor in 2011, "Five" at Guinness Storehouse includes a small replica of an authentic Irish Bar, an 18th-century-inspired Brewers Dining Hall, and a restaurant named Gilroy's, where guests enjoy a Guinness gastronomic experience driven entirely by the Irish tradition of wholesome local produce. Menus include local foods such as Ardsallagh goat's cheese, Irish mussels from Carlingford and the Waterford Blaas bread supplied by MD Bakery in Waterford. This area will host from time to time live cooking demonstrations using Guinness in the recipe and it includes an interactive recipe sharing bank that allows visitors to take Guinness recipe cards home.
